Group Personal Cyber Insurance GPC-001.1 Important Information & Policy Wording

Published October 2023 © Emergence Insurance Pty Ltd

Important Information

Introduction

This important information explains the cover provided by the policy wording and provides the policyholder with notices, but it is not part of the policy wording. Please read both this Important Information and the policy wording so that an informed decision can be made about acquiring this policy.

Words or expressions in bold in this Important Information share the same meaning as they do in the policy.

About the Insurer

This insurance is underwritten by certain underwriters at Lloyd's. Lloyd's underwriters are authorised by the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority ('APRA') under the provisions of the Insurance Act 1973 (Cth).

If the policyholder requires further information about this insurance or wish to confirm a transaction, please contact Emergence.

About Emergence Insurance Pty Limited

The policy is distributed by Emergence Insurance Pty Ltd ('Emergence') (ABN 46 133 037 153, AFSL 329634).

Emergence acts under a binding authority given to it by the insurers to administer and issue policies, alterations and renewals. In all aspects of arranging this policy, Emergence acts as an agent for the insurers and not for the policyholder. Contact details are:

General Insurance Code of Practice

The Insurance Council of Australia Limited has developed the General Insurance Code of Practice ("the Code"), which is a voluntary self-regulatory code. The Code aims to raise the standards of practice and service in the insurance industry.

Lloyd's has adopted the Code on terms agreed with the Insurance Council of Australia. For further information on the Code please visit www.codeofpractice.com.au

The Code Governance Committee (CGC) is an independent body that monitors and enforces insurers' compliance with the Code. For more information on the Code Governance Committee (CGC) go to www.insurancecode.org.au

Duty of Disclosure

Before the policyholder enters into an insurance contract, the policyholder has a duty to tell us anything that the policyholder knew, or could reasonably be expected to know, may affect our decision to insure the policyholder and on what terms.

The policyholder has this duty until we agree to insure the policyholder.

How to Notify Us if a Cyber Event Happens or a Claim is Made Against You:

- 1. If a covered person discovers a cyber event or believes they have a claim under this policy, then a covered person must immediately ring the claim reporting line on 1300 799 562 or notify Emergence in writing at personal claims@emergenceinsurance.com.au and provide details and circumstances of the loss event. A covered person must immediately notify us so that we can investigate the claim to reduce any loss.
- 2. A covered person must do everything reasonably possible to preserve evidence that would enable us to properly assess and investigate the claim.
- 3. A covered person must fully cooperate with us, with our technical management response team and with any providers we appoint.
- 4. A covered person must do everything reasonably possible to assist in the reduction or mitigation of the loss and associated costs.
- 5. A covered person must provide us with the information we need to assess the claim.

The policyholder has the same duty before the policyholder renew, extend, vary or reinstate an insurance contract.

The policyholder does not need to tell us anything that:

- reduces the risk we insure the policyholder for, or
- is common knowledge; or
- we know or should know as an insurer: or
- we waive the policyholder's duty to tell us about.

If the policyholder does not tell us something

If the policyholder does not tell us anything the policyholder is required to, we may cancel the policyholder's contract or reduce the amount we will pay if a covered person makes a claim, or both.

If the policyholder's failure to tell us is fraudulent, we may refuse to pay a claim and treat the contract as if it never existed.

Our Agreement

Our agreement with the policyholder is set out in the policy wording, the schedule and any endorsement(s) issued by us. These documents should be read together.

The headings of clauses in the policy are for reference purposes only. They do not form part of the policy.

Please read the policy so that the policyholder is fully aware of the cover provided as well as the conditions, limits, and exclusions that apply.

The policyholder should keep the documents we issue in a safe place.

Receiving the Policy Documents

We will only enter into a policy with the policyholder if the policyholder agrees to receive the policyholder's policy documents and related communications electronically.

Emergence will send the policyholder's policy documents to the email address nominated by the policyholder or the policyholder's agent. Each electronic communication will be deemed to be received by the policyholder or their agent 24 hours after it leaves Emergence's information system.

The policyholder is responsible for ensuring that the email address that Emergence has for the policyholder is up to date. Please contact Emergence to change the policyholder's email address.

How this Policy Works

The policyholder's policy is made up of several sections.

Who is insured?

The policy is taken out by the policyholder for the benefit of covered persons.

A covered person has the right to make a claim under the policy. A covered person has the same obligations to us under the policy as if they were the policyholder.

The definition of covered person includes family members ordinarily residing together at the covered person's home address.

A covered person represents the family members and anything a covered person says, does or omits to advise to us of, applies to and affects the rights of all insured family members.

What does the policy cover?

The policy provides a covered person with cyber event response costs resulting from cyber events first discovered by a covered person during the policy period.

The limit stated in the schedule and any sub-limits stated in the policy set out the maximum amounts payable. Read the policy in its entirety to understand how the limits apply.

Words with special meaning.

Some words and expressions used in the policy have special meanings. These words are always in bold. The meaning of words and expressions in bold are explained under the heading "what certain words mean".

Under the heading "Exclusions" we set out what is not covered under the policy. Please read the exclusions carefully.

Claims Conditions

Explains what a covered person must do if a covered person discovers a cyber event or believes they have a claim under this policy.

General Conditions

These are conditions that the policyholder and covered persons must comply with under the policy.

For example, covered persons must take reasonable steps to prevent and mitigate costs covered under this policy. These include, but are not limited to:

a. changing the password on any home IT from a default or original password; and

b. activating and maintaining a virus-protection software package which is licensed to a covered person or paid for by a covered person.

Failure to comply with the General Conditions may entitle us to deny or reduce a covered person's claim. Each covered person should become familiar with these conditions and be aware of a covered person's responsibilities and how the policy works.

The Cost of the Policy

The amount that we charge the policyholder for this policy when the policyholder first acquires it and when the policyholder renews the policyholder's policy is called the premium. The premium is the total that we calculate when considering the factors which make up the risk.

Depending on the number of employees and the frequency and cost of claims the premium on renewal of the policy may be different to the premium for this policy.

The premium is subject to government taxes, levies, and duties such as GST and Stamp Duty. Emergence may also charge a policy fee in addition to the premium.

The total cost of the policyholder's policy is shown on the schedule and is made up of the premium plus government taxes, levies and duties (where applicable) and a policy fee (if applicable).

Renewal Procedure

Before this policy expires, we will advise the policyholder whether we intend to offer the policyholder a renewal and if so, on what terms. It is important to check the terms of any renewal before renewing it to ensure that the details are correct.

The Policyholders 'Cooling Off' Rights

The policyholder can return the policy to us within 14 days of its commencement or renewal, which is stated on the schedule. If we receive the policyholder's request to cancel this policy within the 14 day period, we will cancel the policy effective from the commencement or renewal date and provide a full refund. The policyholder cannot use this right where, before the 14 day period ends, a covered person has exercised any of a covered person's rights or powers under the policy (e.g. has made a claim).

After the cooling off period ends the policyholder will still have cancellation rights under the policy (see our General Conditions).

Complaints

If the policyholder or a covered person has any concerns or wish to make a complaint in relation to this policy, our services or a claim, please let us know and we will attempt to resolve the concerns in accordance with our Internal Dispute Resolution procedure. Please contact Emergence in the first instance:

A final decision will be provided to the policyholder or the covered person within 30 calendar days of the date on which the policyholder or covered person first made the complaint unless certain exceptions apply.

The policyholder or a covered person may refer their complaint to the Australian Financial Complaints Authority [AFCA] if the complaint is not resolved to the policyholder or covered person's satisfaction within 30 calendar days of the date on which they first made the complaint or at any time. AFCA can be contacted as follows:

1800 931 678 By phone: By email: info@afca.org.au

By post: Australian Financial Complaints Authority

GPO Box 3 Melbourne VIC 3001

Website: www.afca.orq.au The policyholder or a covered person's complaint must be referred to AFCA within 2 years of the final decision, unless AFCA considers special circumstances apply.

If the policyholder or a covered person's complaint is not eligible for consideration by AFCA, the policyholder or a covered person may be referred to the Financial Ombudsman Service (UK) or the policyholder or a covered person can seek independent legal advice. The policyholder or a covered person can also access any other external dispute resolution or other options that may be available.

Privacy Statement

In this Privacy Statement the use of "we", "our" or "us" means the Insurer and Emergence, unless specified otherwise, and you/your means the policyholder named in the schedule and each covered person.

We are committed to protecting your privacy.

We are bound by the obligations of the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) and the Australian Privacy Principles. These set out basic standards relating to the collection, use, storage and disclosure of personal information.

We need to collect, use and disclose your personal information (which may include sensitive information) to consider your application for insurance and to provide the cover you have chosen, administer the insurance and assess any claim. You can choose not to provide us with some of the details or all of your personal information, but this may affect our ability to provide the cover, administer the insurance or assess a claim.

The primary purpose for our collection and use of your personal information is to enable us to provide insurance services to you.

We may collect personal information in many ways, including directly from you via our website or by telephone or email. Personal information will be obtained from individuals directly where possible and practicable to do so. Sometimes it may be collected indirectly (e.g. from your insurance intermediary or co-insureds). If you provide personal information for another person you represent to us that:

- you have the authority from them to do so and it is as if they provided it to us;
- you have made them aware that you will or may provide their personal information to us, the types of third parties we may provide it to, the relevant purposes we and the third parties we disclose it to will use it for, and how they can access it. If it is sensitive information, we rely on you to have obtained their consent on these matters. If you have not done or will not do either of these things, you must tell us before you provide the relevant information.

We may disclose the personal information we collect to third parties who assist us in providing the above services, such as related entities, distributors, agents, insurers, reinsurers and service providers. Some of these third parties may be located outside of Australia including Philippines, Vietnam, Malaysia and United Kingdom. In all instances where personal information may be disclosed to third parties who may be located overseas, we will take reasonable measures to ensure that the overseas recipient holds and uses your personal information in accordance with the consent provided by you and in accordance with our obligations under the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth).

In dealing with us, you consent to us using and disclosing your personal information as set out in this statement. This consent remains valid unless you alter or revoke it by giving written notice to Emergence's Privacy Officer. However, should you choose to withdraw your consent, we may not be able to provide insurance services to you.

The Emergence Privacy Policy, available at www. emergenceinsurance.com.au or by calling Emergence, sets out how:

- Emergence protects your personal information;
- you may access your personal information;
- you may correct your personal information held by us;
- you may complain about a breach of the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) or Australian Privacy Principles and how Emergence will deal with such a complaint.

If you would like additional information about privacy or would like to obtain a copy of the Privacy Policy, please contact the Emergence Privacy Officer by:

Policy Wording

Subject to the policyholder paying the premium and subject to all the terms and conditions of the policy, and subject to the \boldsymbol{limit} stated in the $\boldsymbol{schedule}$ and any applicable sublimits, we will pay claims arising out of the following:

If a cyber event affects a covered person's home IT and the cyber event is first discovered by the covered person during the policy period then we will pay cyber event response $\mbox{\bf costs}$ incurred directly as a result of the $\mbox{\bf cyber}$ $\mbox{\bf event}.$

What Certain Words Mean

The words listed below have been given a specific meaning in the policy and these specific meanings apply when the words are in bold.

aggregate means the most we will pay combined and in total for all claims, for all covers and costs, and for all covered persons under this policy during any one policy period. The aggregate is set out in the schedule. All limits and sub-limits are included in and form part of the aggregate.

computer system, for the purposes of exclusion 7, means means any computer, hardware, software, communications system, electronic device (including but not limited to, smart phone, laptop, tablet, wearable device), server, cloud infrastructure or microcontroller including any similar system or any configuration of the aforementioned and including any associated input, output, data storage device, networking equipment or back up facility.

covered person means a current employee of the policyholder on whose behalf the policyholder has paid premium to us. Cover is extended to include members of the covered person's family ordinarily residing at the home address. Any reference in the policy to covered person includes members of the covered person's family ordinarily residing at the home address.

cyber event must happen to a covered person's home IT and means any of the following:

- crimeware which is any malware of any type intentionally designed to cause harm to a covered person's home IT but does not include cyber espionage.
- cyber espionage which includes unauthorised access to an item of a covered person's home IT by a criminal source exhibiting the motive of espionage.
- cyber extortion which is a crime involving an attack or threat of attack against a covered person's home IT coupled with a demand for money to avert or stop the attack.
- a denial of service which is solely and directly intended to compromise the availability of a covered person's home IT.
- hacking which is malicious or unauthorised access to a covered person's home IT.

cyber event response costs means the reasonable and necessary costs and expenses agreed to by us, which will not be unreasonably withheld or delayed, as follows:

- credit and identity monitoring costs incurred in engaging monitoring services by a third party for a covered person or an identifiable individual for a period of up to 12 months after a cyber event.
- cyber extortion costs paid with our agreement and consent to respond to a cyber event where a third party is seeking to obtain financial gain from a covered person through cyber extortion. Cyber extortion costs are sub-limited to $2,500 for each covered person during any one policy period unless another amount is stated in the schedule. Cyber extortion costs form part of the limit and are not payable in addition.
- data restoration costs incurred in rectifying, restoring, or replacing data, applications, software or programs in a covered person's home IT that have been lost, damaged, altered, corrupted, or destroyed and the cost to mitigate or prevent further damage, and includes the cost of a covered person purchasing replacement licences, if necessary, but does not include any costs relating to personal or family memorabilia or recordings that are unable to be replaced.
- data securing costs incurred in securing a covered person's home IT to avoid ongoing cyber event response
- legal costs we pay to a qualified legal practitioner of our choosing to provide a covered person with confidential legal advice as to legal remedies that a covered person may have and steps that a coveredperson can take in response to:
 - civil proceedings issued against a covered person or a judgment being entered against a covered person where the covered person is not aware of the civil proceedings directly as a result of identity theft, or
 - a negative consumer credit report in a covered person's name directly as a result of the fraudulent use of that covered person's identity following an identity theft.

legal costs does not include any legal advice about this policy or the cost of representing a covered person in any legal proceedings. The sublimit for legal costs is $2,500 for each covered person in total during any one policy period unless another amount is stated in the schedule. Legal costs form part of thelimit and are not payable in addition.

- notification costs incurred in notifying any identifiable individual whose data or information has been wrongfully accessed, stolen or lost.
- technical management response costs incurred by us to provide assistance to a covered person if a cyber event happens to a covered person's home IT and includes the cost of a forensic IT investigator or other technician that we appoint at our absolute discretion.
- virus extraction costs incurred to remove crimeware from a covered person's home IT.

cyber operation, for the purposes of exclusion 7, means the use of a computer system by, at the direction of, or under the control of a state to:

- disrupt, deny access to or, degrade functionality of a computer system, and/or
- copy, remove, manipulate deny access to or, destroy information in a computer system.

endorsement means a written alteration to the terms, conditions, or limits of this policy.

excess means the amount of money, stated in the schedule, that a covered person is responsible for paying towards their claim home address means the address, in Australia or New Zealand where the covered person permanently resides.

home IT means a covered persons computer hardware, smart devices and appliances, connected to the internet at their home address, or capable of communicating with a covered person's smart devices and appliances at their home address, all of which a covered person owns or operates for personal reasons.

identifiable individual means a person whose personal information is on a covered person's home IT for personal reasons, and which is lost, stolen, or wrongfully accessed because of a cyber event to a covered person's home IT.

identity theft means the unauthorised access to and use of a covered person's identity. The identity theft must happen because of a cyber event to a covered person's home IT.

limit means the amount stated in the schedule and applies to any one claim. The limit is the maximum we will pay for all cyber event response costs and for all claims combined under this policy for each covered person.

personal information means information or an opinion about an identifiable individual which is likely to cause the identifiable individual loss or harm.

policy means this policy wording, the schedule, and any endorsements stated in the schedule.

policy period means the period stated in the schedule.

policyholder means the entity named in the schedule. The policyholder has arranged this policy for the benefit of a covered person.

premium means the amount the policyholder pays to us. The policyholder agrees to pay the premium on behalf of a covered person. The premium is stated in the schedule.

schedule means the document we provide to the policyholder which sets out the details of this policy.

smart devices and appliances means a product which has the capability to receive, interpret and act on information from other smart devices and appliances through a connection to the internet or other form of communication.

state, for the purposes of exclusion 7, means sovereign state.

utility provider includes suppliers of gas, electricity, sewage, water, telecommunications, satellite, cable, internet access providers, internet backbone, DNS servers or other core infrastructure of the internet.

war, for the purposes of exclusion 7, means armed conflict involving physical force:

- a. by a state against another state, or
- as part of a civil war, rebellion, revolution, insurrection, military action or usurpation of power, whether war be declared or not.

we/our/us means certain underwriters at Lloyd's (the underwriters), as insurers of this policy and Emergence acting on behalf of underwriters as the issuer of this policy.

Exclusions

We will not pay any claim:

- 1. arising from or for physical damage to or the repair or replacement of tangible property or equipment or any part of a covered person's home IT unless we repair or replace part of a covered person's home IT to avoid or to mitigate ongoing cyber event response costs.
- 2. arising from or as a consequence of death or bodily injury.
- 3. for any fact or circumstance known to a covered person or discovered by a covered person before the commencement of the policy period.
- 4. arising from or based upon any intentional, criminal or fraudulent acts committed by a covered person or by any person acting with a covered person's knowledge or consent or on a covered person's behalf.
- 5. arising from, attributable to, or as a consequence of any electromagnetic field, electromagnetic radiation or electromagnetism.
- 6. arising from, attributable to, or as a consequence of ionising, radiation or contamination or any loss or damage caused by or related to radioactivity from any nuclear fuel, waste or other toxic, explosive or other hazardous properties of any nuclear assembly or component.
- 7. directly or indirectly occasioned by, happening through or in consequence of war or a cyber operation.

Attribution of a cyber operation to a state

Notwithstanding the insurer's burden of proof, which shall remain unchanged by this clause, in determining attribution of a cyber operation to a state, the insured and insurer will consider such objectively reasonable evidence that is available to them. This may include formal or official attribution by the government of the state in which the computer system affected by the cyber operation is physically located to another state or those acting at its direction or under its control.

- 8. directly or indirectly caused by or arising out of any act of terrorism, which includes any act which may or may not involve the use of, or threat of, force or violence where the purpose of the α ct is to further α political, religious, ideological aim or to intimidate or influence a government (whether lawfully constituted or not) or any section of the public, or any action taken in controlling, preventing or suppressing any such act or its consequences.
- 9. caused by defective equipment, ordinary wear or deterioration, faulty design or construction, software error, or by internet speed, bandwidth, data allowance, digital memory or processing power that is insufficient to meet the needs of a covered person's home IT.
- 10. arising from any legal liability a covered person has at common law or under statute to pay damages (including damages described as aggravated, punitive, or exemplary damages), compensation, penalties, or fines.
- 11. caused by outage of a utility provider.
- 12. arising from any access through a covered person's home IT to the policyholder's IT system or the IT system of any other business that a covered person owns or that a covered person is employed by or performs work for reward.
- 13. arising from or attributable to or in consequence of a covered person engaging in:
 - a. the use of any online auction for a commercial or business purpose;
 - b. any lottery, gambling, or a game of chance; or
 - c. other commercial activity, including the letting out or use of a covered person's property for commercial purposes.
- 14. if the provision of such cover, payment of such claim or provision of such benefit would expose us or any (re) insurer to any sanction, prohibition or restriction under United Nations resolutions or the trade or economic sanctions, laws or regulations of the European Union, United Kingdom or United States of America.

Claims Conditions

If a covered person does not comply with the following claims conditions, we may refuse to pay a claim in whole or in part.

A covered person must comply with the following conditions if they discover a cyber event or believes they have a claim under this policy:

- 1. If a covered person discovers a cyber event or believes they have a claim under this policy, then a covered person must immediately ring the claim reporting line on 1300 799 562 or notify Emergence in writing at personalclaims@emergenceinsurance.com.au and provide details and circumstances of the loss event. A covered person must immediately notify us so that we can investigate the claim to reduce any loss.
- 2. A covered person must do everything reasonably possible to preserve evidence that would enable us to properly assess and investigate the claim.
- 3. A covered person must fully cooperate with us, with our technical management response team and with any providers we appoint.
- 4. A covered person must do everything reasonably possible to assist in the reduction or mitigation of the loss and associated costs.
- 5. A covered person must provide us with the information we need to assess the claim.
- 6. We must approve any cyber event response costs before they are incurred. Consent will not be unreasonably withheld or delayed. We must also approve in writing the payment of any cyber extortion costs by a covered person.
- 7. When we engage technicians or other service providers directly, we will pay them directly, however a covered person remains liable to pay the excess if applicable. A covered person may engage technicians or service providers directly from our approved panel of service providers and seek reimbursement from us. A covered person must evidence the costs they incur and payments they make by receipts, invoices and adequate documentation including the scope of work performed. We will require these to substantiate and process the claim. Only costs that are covered under the policy and reasonable in amount can be reimbursed. We will make a fair and reasonable determination of those costs as part of adjusting the claim. If a covered person incurs costs or make payments that are not covered under this policy, they are responsible for paying those costs. If an excess applies, only costs that are covered under this policy can be applied towards the excess and we will reimburse a covered person for the covered portion of costs incurred, less any applicable excess.

- 8. An excess applies to each claim as shown in the schedule. If we make a payment to a covered person to settle a claim under this policy, we will deduct the excess and pay the net amount. If payment to a third party is required to settle a claim under this policy and no payment is due to a covered person, the covered person is liable to pay the excess and we will inform the covered person how to make payment.
- 9. We will pay legal costs to the qualified legal practitioner that we arrange for a covered person. The cost will be agreed by us and the qualified legal practitioner.

General Conditions

If the policyholder or a covered person does not comply with the following General Conditions, we may refuse to pay a claim in whole or in part or in some circumstances in accordance with the law cancel the policy.

- 1. The policyholder must pay the premium. If the policyholder fails to pay the premium we may take steps to cancel the policy for non-payment of the premium.
- 2. The policyholder must inform us if the number of employees increases by more than 25% during the policy period. If the number of employees increases by more than 25% during the policy period then we reserve the right to charge an additional premium on a pro-rated basis.
- 3. A covered person's cover commences on the later of:
 - a. the commencement of the policy period, or
 - b. the date the covered person first becomes an employee of the policyholder.

A covered person's cover ceases on the earlier of:

- a. the date they cease to be an employee of the policyholder, or
- b. the end of the policy period, or
- c. the date the policy is cancelled by the policyholder or by us.
- 4. Each covered person must take reasonable steps to prevent and mitigate loss covered under this policy. These include, but are not limited to:
 - a. changing the password on any home IT from a default or original password;
 - b. activating and maintaining a virus-protection software package which is licensed to a covered person or paid for by a covered person.
- 5. A covered person must not disclose, either personally or through any person or entity acting on their behalf or at their direction, to any third party the existence and terms of this policy but a covered person may disclose the existence of this policy to the extent required to do so by the law or where we consent to the disclosure in writing.

- 6. This policy and any rights under it cannot be assigned without our written consent.
- 7. If we make payment under this policy then we are entitled to assume a covered person's rights against any third party to the extent of our payment. A covered person must assist us and provide necessary information to us to enable us to bring the subrogation or recovery claim. The proceeds of any subrogation or recovery action will be applied between a covered person and us in accordance with the provisions of the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 (Cth).
- 8. In the event of a claim, a covered person must advise us as to any other insurance that covers the same risks which are insured by this policy, or that a covered person is entitled to claim under or have access to. Subject to the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 (Cth), we reserve the right to seek contribution from the other insurer(s).
- 9. The policyholder can cancel the policy in accordance with the policyholder's 'cooling off' rights within the first 14 days from commencement.

After this 14 day period the policyholder may cancel the policy at any time by providing us with written notice stating when thereafter cancellation is to take effect. As long as no claim has been made and there has been no cyber event, we will refund premium to the policyholder calculated on a pro rata basis less any non-refundable government taxes, charges or levies.

We can only cancel the policy in accordance with the provisions of the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 (Cth).

- 10. All premiums, limits and other amounts under this policy are expressed and payable in Australian dollars.
- 11. Our decision to insure the policyholder and the premium we charge is based on information provided by the policyholder and the risks to be insured under the policy. The insurance, including the amount of premium, may be affected if any of the facts or circumstances that existed at the start of the policy change during the policy period. For example:

The policyholder must notify us of the above or any other changes that may increase the risk insured under the policy.

If we agree to insure the policyholder after the policyholder has told us of the changes, we will confirm this in writing. In some cases, we may only agree to insure the policyholder under the policy if the policyholder agrees to pay us additional premium.

- 12. The insurers providing this insurance agree that:
 - a. if a dispute arises under this insurance, this policy will be subject to Australian law and practice and the insurers will submit to the jurisdiction of any competent Court in the Commonwealth of Australia;
 - b. any summons, notice or process to be served upon the insurers may be served upon:

Lloyd's Underwriters' General Representative in Australia, Suite 1603 Level 16 1 Macquarie Place Sydney NSW 2000 who has authority to accept service and to appear

c. if a suit is instituted against any of the insurers. all the insurers participating in this policy will abide by the final decision of such Court or any competent Appellate Court.

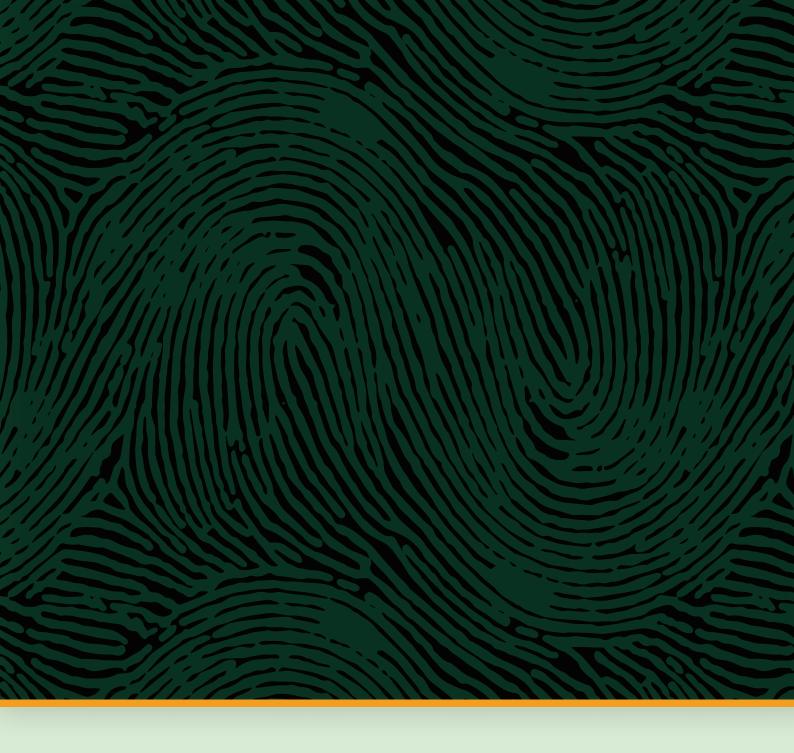

on the insurers' behalf;

In the event of a claim arising under this policy NOTICE should be given to Emergence Insurance Pty Ltd. as soon as possible.

13. The subscribing insurers' obligations under contracts of insurance to which they subscribe are several and not joint and are limited solely to the extent of their individual subscriptions. The subscribing insurers are not responsible for the subscription of any cosubscribing insurer who for any reason does not satisfy all or part of its obligations.
